Our Expert Team

Here at White Sand Weddings, we pride ourselves on our customer service and the expertise of our team of greatly experienced wedding consultants. It is our firm belief that you could not deal with a more knowledgeable and skilled staff anywhere in the UK as those we are lucky to have working alongside us.

Our team is expanding to meet the demand for our services, but we recruit only the very best consultants, offering both you and us at White Sand Weddings the highest possible standards. Between them, our wedding consultants have many years of experience in our field and they look forward to working with you to arrange your dream wedding or honeymoon.

Each of our wedding consultants visits one or more of our wedding or honeymoon destinations each year. We believe that this ensures they can offer impartial advice on any aspect of your chosen wedding or honeymoon location, and also have a real feeling of your chosen venue.

If your personal consultant has not visited your wedding or honeymoon venue his or herself, then it is very likely that at least one of the White Sand Weddings team has, allowing us to answer most questions very quickly. There will of course be the odd question that we cannot answer directly, in which case we work closely with our tour operator partners and hotels to obtain answers for you quickly.

Our Personal Service

We have access to most of the UK's reputable tour operators, such as Beachcomber Tours, Virgin Holidays, Thomas Cook and many more, and offer your dream wedding or honeymoon at the same prices these operators can offer you directly. However, it is our personal service where we truly excel. In most instances, you will work with the same wedding consultant from your initial contact with White Sand Weddings right through to the day you depart for your holiday.

We believe that offering you continuity is extremely important when dealing with the most romantic holiday of your life, but we do of course have a fully qualified team of wedding consultants on hand to assist you with any enquiry should your own consultant be unavailable at any time.

Group Bookings

Wedding parties can of course range from just an eloping couple through to fifty guests or more! White Sand Weddings is very experienced with working on overseas wedding bookings of various party sizes and the details involved ... but also the savings a group booking can entail. We would recommend that when booking your wedding with White Sand Weddings, your party of guests, whatever the size, also books with us. This way, it is much easier to keep control of all the details for you, especially in respect of flights and accommodation at your chosen location. But in respect of making savings, it also makes sense to keep everything as simple as possible. Your personal wedding consultant will provide the information you need regarding the savings you can make on group bookings.

Another important reason for your party to book with White Sand Weddings is that it offers far greater protection should an airline need to alter their schedule for some reason beyond their, and so our control, or if your chosen wedding location or venue in that location becomes unexpectedly available. In these rare instances, White Sand Weddings works closely with our clients to find a quick solution for alternative arrangements they are totally satisfied with. Although this does not happen often, so there is no need for alarm, we are experienced at dealing with and professionally solving such situations.

Gift List

White Sand Weddings' Gift List service has proven very popular with our clients. This is a simple and effective idea allowing family, friends and colleagues to contribute towards the cost of your dream wedding or honeymoon.

It works so that in conjunction with your holiday booking we set up a separate booking in order to keep track of each payment made by a family member, friend or work colleague. These payments are then simply transferred to the balance of your White Sand Weddings wedding or honeymoon holiday booking. The account is of course guaranteed with the same high level of financial protection that our clients receive, details of which can be found below.

Financial Protection

Your wedding or honeymoon holiday booking with White Sand Weddings is ABTA and ATOL protected and backed by the Co-operative Group. You will see the logos of these organisations prominently displayed on our website.

ABTA is the Association of British Travel Agents, the organisation responsible for the strict code of conduct under which all travel agents such as White Sand Weddings must operate. It is unwise to ever book a holiday with a UK company that is not a member of or affiliated to ABTA. ATOL is the acronym for Air Travel Organisers' Licensing and is a consumer protection scheme designed to safeguard holiday bookings.

What this means to you is that you can book your wedding or honeymoon with White Sand Weddings without the slightest need to worry. This protection gives you 100% peace of mind, but if you wish to learn more, please visit the websites below for detailed information:
